STRIKE SITUATION.

MORE MEN DRIFTING BACK.

Surplus Labour Available.

Official reports this morning indicate that numbers of men are returning to work, the largest number in any one particular line being the coxswains and engineers of harbour launches, many of which have now resumed operation. Coxswains and engineers have also applied to the Police Department for employment. Chinese barbers, tea shop workers and many other classes of purely Chinese labour have resumed work, evidently realising that their defection can have no possible bearing on the situation.

The number of men applying for work at the Police Station every morning continues to increase and there is not the slightest difficulty in supplying labour wants. Over 1,000 men were engaged this morning and after these had left for their respective jobs there were well over 500 more men left waiting for work. Among this latter number were about 60 seamen.

A call at the office of the Labour Controller, City Hall, this morning confirmed the above reports. There is scarcely any new demand being received for emergency help, and it is generally reported that men are drifting back to work.

Egg Shortage.

With regard to the Colony's food supply, the most serious shortage at the moment is in respect of eggs and poultry. There is scarcely an egg to be bought and then the freshness of the stocks is getting questionable. The Controller (Mr. N. L. Smith) stated this morning that they were trying to make arrangements to get fresh supplies down from Swatow, whilst the Dairy Farm Company was, he understood, in touch with Manila on the matter. Normally, most of the eggs coming to Hongkong came from Swatow and Tientsin, and with the coastal shipping disorganised as it was, and with Chinese withholding supplies, it was inevitable that a shortage should be felt here. It was the same with poultry, and the inhabitants of the Colony would largely have to be content to be short on these things.

There is a little shortage of live stock reported to-day, and there has been a restricted slaughtering in consequence. It is better to have a consistently small shortage than a big shortage later on if expected arrivals failed to materialise. There is no fear of any serious want of cattle.

The Shipping Position.

The shipping position of the Colony is precisely the same to-day as it was yesterday, namely, 91 vessels in harbour, 52 of which are British. There have only been two clearances and two arrivals reported since we published yesterday, the two boats to leave being the s.s. Hydrea for Swatow and the s.s. Mishima Maru for Japan, whilst the arrivals have been the s.s. Cliona laden with fuel oil for the P. C. from Sarakan, and the s.s. Hoi Nam, a Portuguese river boat from Macao. Otherwise there has been absolutely no movement of shipping.

The s.s. Tung On, now being run by the Government, is expected to arrive here from Kongmoon over the week-end sometime.

FRENCH PARTY FEELING.

ANTI-COMMUNIST EDITOR'S INDISCRETION.

Paris, July 17. M. Charles Maurras, editor of the Action Francaise, has been sentenced to two years' imprisonment in default of a fine of a thousand francs, on a charge of publishing an open letter declaring that if the Minister of the Interior, M. Schrameck, attempted to disarm the members of the League of the Action Francaise, without also disarming the Communists, he would kill him "like a dog."—Reuter.

SWATOW CONDITIONS.

THE BOYCOTT OF FOREIGNERS.

The following is an extract from a letter received by a local resident from a relative who has recently gone to Swatow—

"On arrival at Swatow, a boat was not able to come alongside to fetch us, so we had to ask some of the Chinese for a lift. We got into two boats and were only rowed for a few yards when the boat stopped and the men started to bargain, demanding $15 for the short trip. We naturally refused, and ordered the boat to go alongside a launch flying the white ensign, manned by naval ratings. The Chinese were, of course, afraid to do this and commenced rowing in the direction we wished to go. When about twenty yards off the Bund, they demanded $20 before they rowed us the rest of the distance; we again refused, but could do nothing as there were about 18 Chinese in the two boats and they greatly outnumbered us. Luckily for us, father saw us from some distance and summoned three others to assist us. I then suggested that I be rowed ashore when I would ask the ashore people to pay the amount asked for. This they agreed to, but first of all insisted upon the others being transferred to the other boat. Upon reaching the shore, I explained the position, when several of the party insisted on the boats pulling in to the Bund, but this was not accomplished until the boatmen were threatened with revolvers.

"Hongkong is a paradise compared to Swatow. There is food here, but the Chinese refuse to sell it to us; in fact, any Chinese found speaking to us is in danger of meeting trouble. Provisions have to be smuggled, so complete is the boycott, and intimidation is openly carried on with the police as amused spectators. Two students are actually watching our house. The Japanese and American warships are on the Swatow side, but H.M.S. Bluebell is anchored off Kakchiob."

FLOODS ON MAINLAND.

KOWLOON TONG SUFFERS HEAVILY.

A large number of houses in Kowloon Tong have collapsed owing to the inundation of that district by yesterday's heavy rain. In the forenoon several feet of water lay in the village, and the soaking of old foundations as well as the rush of water in some places, caused more than twenty dwellings to fall. Fortunately, the inhabitants had ample warning and most of them moved out of their homes, so there were no fatalities. Some of the people, trapped in the houses, had to get through the roofs, whence they were rescued on rafts.

Splendid rescue work was performed throughout the day by firemen from the Kowloon station, P. W. D. and sanitary department staffs, and police from Shamshuipo station. One fireman was slightly injured in the foot, and a woman and two children had to be taken to the Kwong Wah hospital suffering from the effects of immersion; otherwise there was a remarkable freedom from injury of any kind. The most serious aspect of the flood was the damage done to property, particularly to foodstuffs and livestock. A fairly large number of cattle and pigs are reported to have been drowned, as well as poultry. In some places the water reached a depth of nearly fourteen feet, and the village has been rendered practically uninhabitable for the time being.

KOWLOON CITY.

No lives were lost at old Kowloon City, though there was considerable flooding at the height of the downpour. None of the houses collapsed, but the lower portions

YESTERDAY'S DISASTER.

OVER 30 BODIES RECOVERED.

Eighteen Rescued People Injured.

The difficult task of recovering the bodies of the victims of the Po Hing Fong disaster is still in progress, having continued throughout the night, the area being lighted by huge arc lamps. A large force of Sanitary Department coolies was added to the strength this morning, but the chance of rescuing any further living person is very remote.

The list of those killed is being added to hourly and the official figures compiled at 9 o'clock this morning shows that so far 34 dead bodies have been taken out, and the injured number eighteen, which figure includes those who managed to struggle out unaided at the very beginning. Four of the injured have since been discharged and Mr. T. N. Chau, the barrister, who had such a miraculous escape, is one of these.

It is estimated by the police that 150 persons were in the houses when the collapse occurred, and it is believed that at least 80 bodies will be recovered before the debris is finally cleared. A large number were trapped, it is known, at the rear of the houses.

As already stated, Mr. Chau Siu-ki is amongst the killed and others of his family who perished along with him and whose bodies have been recovered from No. 12 are his aged mother, Chau-Lize (83), Chau Kiu-nin, his son (25), his grandson, Chau Chan-nin (10), his two concubines, Chau Ko-ze and Chau Chim-ze, his son's wife, Chau Hoi Sze (32) and other members of his household including Chau Siu-ze (28), Chau Kung-ye (3), Chau Suk-ye (1) and seven servants.

Mr. Wong Chui Shuen, who resided in the fourth house, No. 14, was found dead, together with his wife and little daughter.

9% for December
10% for January, etc.
- 3.—Each purchaser responsible for the payment of interest through his broker up to the delivery of the shares.

of the town were under several feet of muddy water, and the adjoining vegetable gardens were rendered into lakes. A few minor landslides added to the silt and rubbish deposited, and with choked up channels everywhere, Kowloon City never noted for its sanitary state, now represents little more than an area of slush and filth. The clearing of the site will occupy a considerable time.

SHIP'S OFFICER INJURED.

FALL INTO HOLD AT KOWLOON DOCK.

A very unfortunate accident which necessitated the removal of a ship's officer to the French Hospital at Causeway Bay occurred on the s.s. Hop Sang at Kowloon Docks yesterday.

The victim was Mr. Patrick, the Chief Officer of the vessel, who had the misfortune to slip and fall into the hold. He was injured about the back and wrist.

A number of willing helpers, including Mr. J. M. Smyth, of the Hongkong and Whampoa Dock Company immediately went to his assistance and later a launch was obtained and he was conveyed across the harbour to Hospital.

THE NAVY VOTE.

FORDS AND ROLLS ROYCES.

Situation of the Singapore Base.

In the House of Commons, with the object of extracting a Governmental statement on the building programme, Sir John Simon moved a small reduction in the naval vote. The Rt. Hon. W. C. Bridgeman, replying, promised that Mr. Baldwin will make a statement within a week. In the meantime he pointed out that on the pre-war purchasing value Britain was spending £15,000,000 on the navy, which was below pre-war. The debate on Sir John Simon's amendment and the estimates were adjourned. Before the adjournment Mr. Bridgeman denied that the replacement programme meant replacing Fords by Rolls Royces. On the contrary, it meant the replacing of a number of Fords by one Rolls Royce. He added that as regards Singapore there was no difference in the situation since the last debate. They were proceeding with the installation of a floating dock and considering a larger programme, which any way cannot be begun before next year. He would make an announcement thereabout when they had made up their minds.

During the debate Mr. Bridgeman denied that the new Navy order was issued for the purpose of strike breaking. He explained that the order aimed at regulating the action of officers and men in the event of a general strike to safeguard the public's food supplies.—Reuter.

SATURDAY, JULY 18, 1925.

BRITAIN AND AMERICA.

It is with feelings of much satisfaction that we read of the agreement between Britain and the United States of America on the matter of China, which means that the two Governments are working in accord in the present very critical position in the Far East. The message published yesterday mentioned that "the general policy of both is to push on as rapidly as possible with the Washington Conference programme, when the conditions in China are favourable for such a step." It is also indicated that the question of extra-territoriality—probably the most vexed question of all—is to be deferred until other matters have been adjusted. This is the first definite reference to the attitude of America towards the extraterritorial problem, and should do away with a great deal of uncertainty which has existed hitherto as to the United States policy, especially in France. There have been reports of the American Government deciding to give up extra-territoriality forthwith, as has been done (under varying circumstances) by Germany, Austria and Russia. The standpoint of the majority of big Powers interested in China has been that the country must first of all prove its ability to grant absolute justice to all comers, or in other words show that its judicial system is above reproach and its whole administration one of integrity. Obviously, such a state of affairs can only come about after certain other preliminary matters have been adjusted. The process is bound to be a gradual one, and it may be several years before any of the Powers can feel itself justified in recommending the transfer of full judicial authority over foreigners to Chinese courts. Among the recent demands made by the radicals of China is that for immediate abolition of extra-territoriality. There was a tendency in some quarters to expect America to make this concession apart from anyone else. We could hardly conceive of the United States Government taking such a revolutionary step in the face of the obvious shortcomings of the Chinese administration. The last few days have clarified the atmosphere considerably, and it is now possible to gather what policy our transatlantic friends are likely to adopt. The message we have quoted states plainly that conditions in China have to be favourable for changes before any can be entertained, and that preliminary examination of the extraterritorial question will be necessary. The two great English-speaking nations are evidently continuing to approach international problems in close consultation and in full accord, and that augurs well for the peaceful conclusion of the present urgent questions facing the world Powers in the Far East.

Yesterday's Disaster.

We feel sure that the sympathy of the whole community will go out to the relatives of those who have so tragically met their death in the disastrous collapse of a retaining wall at the back of Po Hing Fong, one of the best-known Chinese thoroughfares. The death of Mr. Chau Siu-ki removes one of the most prominent and highly respected Chinese residents of this Colony and sincere condolences will go to his son, Mr. Chau, who was rescued alive after having been entombed under the debris for nearly three hours. The work of rescue reflects much credit not only on the Police (under the indefatigable personal lead of Mr. D. Burlingham) but also on the members of the St. John's Ambulance Brigade, numbers of whom were on the scene almost immediately after the disaster. Mr. E. Ralphs set a worthy example to his subordinates by his personal efforts. The members of the Fire Brigade, too, worked like Trojans and there is nothing but praise to be bestowed on all engaged in the work of rescue, handicapped as they were by falling rain and escaping gas from broken pipes. There is, however, a question of responsibility to be settled somewhere. A huge retaining wall dominating a terrace of big three-storied houses suddenly collapses. Surely the public has a right to ask some questions. The wall, not a new one by any means, supported a site on which old premises had been demolished and which was being prepared for a new structure. It is clear that such a wall would act as an impounding dam to any heavy fall of rain which came before the new structure was sufficiently advanced to protect it, and it is pertinent to ask if any adequate drainage provision was made. For the second time in two days, we are forced to remark that heavy falls of rain are usual here and ought to be provided against. In any event, this latest tragedy should be the subject of the strictest enquiry.

Anti-Foreignism.

It would appear from news to hand that the anti-foreign (and particularly anti-British) movement is nowhere being more keenly displayed by the Chinese than in Swatow. The extract from the letter of a correspondent which appears elsewhere to-day is significant of the spirit of the Chinese in that port; their insolent behaviour towards foreigners in general is altogether reprehensible. Seemingly the authorities either cannot or will not do anything to stop the campaign—a circumstance which may be partly due to the fact that the two military leaders on the spot are at cross purposes. An effort is even being made to prevent food supplies reaching foreigners. It is when we hear of situations like the one under notice that we almost despair of anything short of the display of force making any impression on Chinese who indulge in, and others who en-

THE DOSSER CASE.

MAGISTRATES REQUEST DEPORTATION.

(Our Own Correspondent.)

Shanghai, July 17. Although the Mixed Court, consisting of the British Assessor (Mr. C. E. Whitmore) and Magistrate Zau, dismissed the charges against Dosser, they ruled him "an extremely undesirable resident of the Settlement, and he will therefore be expelled and handed over to the Chinese authorities with a request that he be deported."

The Court decided that the certificate found on Dosser was genuine, but that his activities did not warrant conviction.

courage, such anti-foreign displays. Certainly China would appear to have chosen an unhappy moment in which to ask concessions from the Powers. After all, China is supposed to be on terms of friendship with the foreign nations; but at the moment she has a rather peculiar way of demonstrating that relationship. As we have before said, before the Chinese can hope to win the good ear of the Powers, she must see that a step is put to the anti-foreignism which has become so marked in recent times. That is the first necessity. When that end has been attained, then China's foreign friends may feel disposed to give a respectful and considerate hearing to any claims which she may put forward.

The allusion I made recently to phosphorescent stockings which glow in the dark has called forth an angry letter from a reader demanding to know what use they are. On first reading his note I decided that my correspondent had fairly got me. Indeed, it would require a far wiser head than mine (if possible) to assign a use for any feminine fad. But thinking the matter over I have ascertained at least two useful purposes which phosphorescent stockings may serve. Firstly, they would enable you at once to see, even on the darkest night, whether or not a lady was wearing any stockings at all. At present when you encounter a lady in the dark you cannot determine this important point without asking her, and that's not being done this season. In the second place, supposing a lady wearing phosphorescent stockings falls down in a dark street at night, and you run to her assistance. Immediately you would know which way up to stand her.

I have just been reading about a stoneless cherry which a French market gardener has succeeded in producing, and I am hopeful that his success will inspire other gardeners to experiment with a view to improving more of our fruit and vegetables. A non-skid banana which won't suddenly slip out of its hide and fall plunk into one's finger-bowl is urgently needed. So, too, are square green peas which won't fall off your knife when you're eating them. And another longfelt want is rigid asparagus which won't flop and splash when being conveyed from plate to plate. Really, the only way by which one can now consume asparagus in comfort and safety is to lie flat on one's back on the floor—a method I always employ at home, but one which restaurant proprietors sternly discountenance. Apparently, they would rather see a customer smothered with melted butter from head to foot in his chair than a nice clean one gracefully recumbent on the carpet. No wonder Continental people say we take our pleasures sadly!

He would, I feel sure, be interested in my bolobunga—a sort of giraffe which spends the greater part of its time immersed in home-made lemonade with only its left ear showing. And there's my wum-pabingo—a strange creature, half hyena, half ostrich, which remains for hours on end with its tail in a bucket of beef-dripping and its head in a butterfly-net. And my puggawugga, too—a cross between the zebra and the laughing jackass, which passes its day upside down in old zinc dustbins, and feeds exclusively on salmon-and-shrimp paste.

I must go out and sneeze again,

THE JUNE SETTLEMENT.

TO-DAY'S COUNCIL DEBATE.

ANNULMENT PROPOSAL REJECTED.

SANCTITY OF CONTRACTS UPHELD.

A specially convened meeting of the Legislative Council was held at noon to-day, for the purpose of considering the second reading of the Bill, relating to the postponement of the June Settlement. There was a full attendance of Council members, whilst the back of the Council Chamber was filled with members of the Stock Exchange and the Share Brokers' Association and members of the general public.

Yesterday's Disaster.

Prior to the commencement of the Council business, His Excellency the Governor referred to the very great loss, which the Council and Colony had sustained owing to the death of Mr. Chau Siu-ki. He said the Council would desire to tender their sincere regret to the families of all those who had lost their lives in the disaster, and proceeded to speak in terms of high appreciation of the late Mr. Chau's public life and work.

The Hon. Mr. P. H. Holyoak, as Senior Unofficial Member, and the Hon. Mr. R. H. Kotewall, on behalf of the Chinese Members, also addressed the Council, following which the Clerk of Council was instructed to convey to the members an expression of the Council's sympathy.

June Settlement Bill.

The Council then proceeded to consider the Bill relating to the postponement of the June Settlement. His Excellency the Governor stating that the Council was in Committee on the Bill and would be pleased to hear any representations.

Mr. L. Zeitlyn then addressed the Council as follows:—I appear on behalf of more than 100 business men of this Colony, who have bought shares, which were to have been delivered or settled on 23rd June last, and the representations, which I have been instructed to urge upon Your Excellency and the members of this honourable Council, is that, as the spirit of British legislation for the greatest good of the greatest number might be achieved, that spirit may still be honoured by legislating, so that the smallest measure of harm may be done to the fewest in number, and that I am to urge and bring before you for your consideration the proposal, that instead of the Legislation which is now before this honourable Council, there shall be an absolute annulment of all contracts for the June Settlement. The annulment shall not extend to the July, August and September Settlements, because it is only the June Settlement that involves a very considerable number of people in this Colony. The considerations which I have been urged to bring to the notice of this honourable Council against the proposals embodied in the Bill now before it, are as follows:—In the circumstances of the present case it is wholly impossible for the business community to find the sum necessary to pay the amount involved in the difference between the flat rate and the contract rate. The springs of credit have been dried up and that amount is wholly out of the reach of the business community involved. Secondly, although the amount to be found is an impossible one, even if it were to be found, the difficulties, that are to be faced by the community, are so large that there will be no end to their liability by the payment of the difference between the flat rate and the contract rate, for there will still be the amount to be found which may be due in September. In the interval, it may well be, that interested parties may depress the shares. Even if that is now done and if it is possible to conceive of a counsel of self-denial being indulged in by those whose avocations are on the stock exchange, the interests of themselves on July 23rd. I would also like to point out to your Excellency, if I may, and this Council, that as regards every one of these contracts the brokers are personally responsible for the performance of them. If your Excellency and this Council see fit to adopt the legislation in the mode I have suggested, it will be left to these two Associations to settle amongst themselves the contracts as between themselves, their principals and their agents. This proposal, your Excellency, would carry with it the following eliminations in the present Ordinance now before you:

Section 2—Sub-sections (a), (b), (c), (d) and (f) delete; the balance remain.
Sections 3, 4 and 5—would be eliminated; also the flat rate would disappear from the Schedule of the Ordinance.

Now if legislation, your Excellency, was adopted in that form, it would meet every part of the argument raised by my learned friend, Mr. Zeitlyn, because the continuation of the September Settlement and the possible continuation afterwards would be eliminated. The only point, where we are in issue, is as to annulment of the contracts. We do not know who these one hundred business men are, but I can only say I am sure my two Associations regard it as extraordinary, that in a time of emergency like this, there should be one hundred business men, who are likely to repudiate the contracts they have entered into.

His Excellency the Governor: Mr. Zeitlyn, Would you like to supplement your remarks in any way?

Mr. Zeitlyn: If I may, Sir, I would like to address one remark with reference to what has just fallen from my friend, Mr. Shenton, who would be surprised to learn there are one hundred business men of this community who desire to repudiate their contracts. Your Excellency and this hon. Council will not forget that this legislation has been induced by a breach of contract on the part of the Stock Brokers' Associations owing to the circumstances which have unfortunately arisen in the Colony, and the business men feel that in the circumstances that have arisen, that the fact, patent to everyone that the sources of credit are dried up and that it is to the greater interest of this Colony that its legitimate business should first of all be fostered rather than stock broking business, that without any desire to repudiate them, they think that if there is to be legislation, the legislation would do the least measure of injury if it proceeded on the lines of the annulment of the June contracts only rather than on the lines which are now before this hon. Council, and embodied in the Bill before it, because on these lines the evil seems to be without end. To get rid of this difficulty they will be compelled to seek the relief which the jurisdiction of the Courts afford them unless this hon. Council in its wisdom, having given consideration to the proposals I have had the honour to present to-day, see fit to legislate that the June contracts at any rate—not the July or September contracts because these involve few persons—shall be got rid of and the evil consequences which must flow from it by an act of annulment.

Mr. Shenton: Sir, There is one more comment which has just been pointed out to me by a member of the Association, that if the June Settlement contracts are annulled, it will carry with it a great number of the contracts for July, August and September, which have been entered into based on the June contracts.

Hon. Mr. Holyoak: Speaking personally, Sir, as one who is not interested in this question except academically, for the protection of trade done in the Colony, the sanctity of contract is a thing which, I think, all of us agree cannot lightly be interfered with or broken. I have felt from the first, Sir, as you are aware, extremely diffident about this Council dealing in any way with this question, and I have felt from the first that the only manner in which it could be dealt with is to legalise a day for the Settlement, which became impossible on the day it should have taken place owing to the state of emergency existing with regard to the banks.

His Excellency the Governor:

The Council resumed.

His Excellency remarked that he had power in cases of emergency and where no material amendment had been made to the Bill in Committee, to suspend the Standing Orders in order that the Bill might pass through all its stages that day. The only question was whether it could be regarded as a matter of urgency. "I feel myself handicapped," he added, "by the rules and orders, and I cannot declare this an emergency. Under the rules of the Council there is nothing to prevent us meeting in twenty minutes time. I feel, however, it would be straining the rules and orders if we met again to-day."

The Council then adjourned until 12.45 on Monday.

The Amended Bill.

The amended bill as it is now due to come before the Council for its third reading on Monday is as follows:

An Ordinance relating to the postponement of the June Settlement.

Be it enacted by the Governor of Hongkong, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof, as follows:—

1. This Ordinance may be cited as the June Settlement Ordinance, 1925.

2. In this Ordinance, (a) "June settlement day" means the 23rd day of June, 1925.

(b) "Shares" include any shares in any stocks or funds transferable at the Bank of England or at the Bank of Ireland, and India promissory notes, and any bonds or debentures, and any shares in the stocks or funds of any foreign or colonial state or government, or in the capital, stock or funded debt of any county council, corporation, company, or society in the United Kingdom, or in the Colony, or of any foreign or colonial corporation, company or society.

3. Every contract for the purchase or sale of shares for the June settlement day and every contract for the carrying over of shares until the June Settlement day shall be construed in every court of law as if, prior to the June Settlement day, a duly stamped agreement for performance of the said contract had been made between all the parties to the contract prior to the 23rd day of July, 1925.

4. Every contract, which is referred to in section 3, shall be deemed at all times to have been and is hereby declared to be valid and enforceable by legal proceedings notwithstanding that the same was not performed on the June settlement day or on any other date prior to the 23rd day of July, 1925.

5. No person shall be allowed to claim or plead in any legal proceedings, whether instituted before or after the commencement of this Ordinance, that any of the contracts which are referred to in section 3 became or is invalid or otherwise unenforceable by legal proceedings by reason of the non-performance of any such contract on the June settlement day or on any other date prior to the 23rd day of July, 1925.

The Improved Hudson Coach

The Easiest Steering and Riding Hudson Ever Built
This Hudson Coach is the first closed car ever to sell at exactly open car cost. And Hudson, alone, can build it. As the largest producer of 6-cylinder closed cars in the world, Hudson exclusively holds the advantages to create this car and this price.

With Genuine Balloon Tyres

And now genuine balloon tyres are standard equipment. Do not confuse with "semi-balloon" types. Note, too, that Hudson has not simply "added balloon tyres." Both running and steering gear have been specially designed to compensate for the radical differences balloon tyres bring. The result is the easiest steering, most comfortable and steadiest riding Hudson ever built. And braking efficiency is almost doubled. More than ever, "Closed Car Comforts at Open Car Cost" is the uppermost buying issue. Note how fast the Coach is displacing open cars. As the wanted type the Coach maintains the highest resale value against the waning desirability of the open car.
